Sabbath Reading for Preachers

October 25-27, 2011
Kline Center
Alburtis, Pennsylvania

We believe...

We believe that renewal in our congregations begins with the care and renewal of pastors – those charged with the spiritual care and feeding of congregations.

We believe that if the church is to have a future in this radically different postmodern world it will be a future we discover through the poets and visionaries, the artists, writers, and preachers. It will unfold out of Sabbath time and experiments in new orders of servanthood, out of prayer and worship and charity in the old rich sense of that word. It will be disclosed in quiet solitude, in small group gatherings around the Word, and in the midst of the world's cries of pain.

We believe that the age of the church planner is rapidly drawing to a close and the future of the Church will unfold out of the recovery of Sabbath.

We invite you to...

Sabbath Reading for Preachers

October 25-27, 2011

Facilitated by

Daniel Moser and Hilary Barrett
Sabbath Time Ministries

An Alban Institute video on pastor/parish relations committees points out that pastors have few free weekends and almost never have the "3-day weekends" others enjoy on a regular basis.

We invite you to experience a "long weekend" of Sabbath-keeping and renewal in the middle of the week. We will gather in the beautiful new Kline Building of the Mensch Mill Retreat Center. Surrounded by rolling hills and forests, it's a perfect place to come away. Many cell phones don't even work there! You will spend three days with 14 other colleagues. It will be a time of nourishing rest and reflection, beginning with breakfast on Tuesday morning and ending mid-afternoon on Thursday.

Our time together will include reflections on four works of literature chosen by the leaders. We will examine these books together to savor the writers' craft, to enter into the story, and hear what it has to say to us as preachers and human beings.

All participants will receive these reading materials in advance of our time together. Participants must covenant to give themselves the gift of time to read the books before they arrive.

Participants Will Receive

Because of the generous funding support by The Center for Excellence in Preaching at Calvin Theological Seminary, Grand Rapids, Michigan, the cost of the event is only $170 per person.

This registration fee includes:

- 3-day program
- Housing (A limited number of private rooms are available for an additional $30.)
- All meals
- All reading materials
